... caused the Indians to be
... became peaceable

Thomas Macy removed to Nantucket from Salisbury in the year 1659<sup>in the fall</sup> with his family. Edward Starbuck also came with him, who were the first white people we have any record of that came to Nantucket.
Edward's Wife & family, & several other families came here from Salisbury in the year - 1660. - at which time there was about 3000 Indians, who manifested a friendly disposition towards the first settlers of the winter, & treated them with great hospitality, & invited them to purchase a part of their Land, the winter accordingly accepted their offer & purchased of Wannooh, Mammooch, Nickamoose Jephtha & other Sachems. - by fair deeds of conveyance & made fair payments without any fraud or force, & to the satisfaction of the Indian Sachems at that time.
many years afterwards when the Island became more settled by the whites, the Indians were led into the harmful practice of drinking ardent spirits to excess, which at length created much uneasiness with many of the Indians, who by the assistance of the winter complained to the general Court of the illusage of the whites in the purchase of their Land, the Court deputized one of their Judges to come hear & hear their complaints, which after a fair hearing, & the Records produced to prove it was the judgment of the Court, that the Whites had bought their Land fairly, & advised the Indians to be satisfied, who afterwards became peaceable.

The Indian Inhabitants, after the Whites settled here decreased very fast. when in the year 1763. it did not appear that more than 358 remained out of 3000 at which time a contagious disease took place among them called the Yellow Fever or Plague. which swept off the greater part of them <sup>th<sup>m</sup></sup>. the sickness began - 16th 8<sup>m</sup> 1763 - & ceased 16th 2<sup>m</sup> 1764 -

N<sup>o</sup>. - 34 were sick & recovered 36 lived among them & did not take the sickness
8 escaped the sickness by living at the West end 40 lived among the English & escaped the sickness 18 were at at Sea at the time.

222 fell victims to the Fever -

358 the whole number before the sickness -

In 1808. 4<sup>m</sup> only 2 Native Indians remain

In the year 1690 Ichobed Paddack came here from Cape Cod to instruct the English how to kill Whales in boats from the shore, which <sup>was</sup> the principal way of procuring Oil for many years, & was carried on with great success until about 1760. when it began to decrease by reason of the scarcity of the Whales.

In the year 1726 was about the period when the Whales were the most numerous. in that year - 86 were obtained -

It may be remarked, that notwithstanding it was a new business & the Inhabitants had it all to learn by experience, that in the course of 70 years preceding 1760. not one white person was killed or drowned, in pursuing the whaling business from the shore. —

When the English first came to Nantucket the Shores abounded with Blue fish, so large that 30 or 35 would fill a barrel. They generally set in about the first of the 6th month. — & continued until the last of the 9th month. — In the year 1763. when the sickness took place among the Indians, the Blue fish drew off, & very few if any has been caught since

John Barnard & Bethiah his Wife & Isaac Colman were drowned between Nantucket & the Vineyard the 6th 6th m 1669. by the oversetting the Canoe, Eleazer Folger who was also with them, was wonderfully preserved, he held by the Canoe & was carried by the Tide & wind upon a Shoal, where he reached the bottom with his feet, & then turned the Canoe over again, & got into her & bailed her out, & then without Oars or Sail drove ashore near Morris' Island

The first we know of the Ancestors of the Coffin family was Peter Coffin of Dorixon, in Devonshire; he married Joan Thember, by whom he had issue Tristram, John, Eunice, & Mary. The Old Man died in England, & his son John was mortally wounded in Plymouth fort, & died 8 days afterwards.

Tristram married Dinah Stephens, by whom he had Peter, Tristram, Elisabeth & James, born in England. Then he with his family came to New-England, and settled at Salisbury in 1642. (bringing also his Mother & two sisters) where they had three Children more viz. Mary, John, & Stephen.

Tristram's sister Eunice married Wm Butler, his sister Mary married Alex Adams by whom she had four Children viz. Samuel, Mary (who married Capt. Stratton) Susanna (married to Peyton) & Elisabeth (married to Wm Parkman).

The wife of Peter & mother of Tristram, died in May 1661. - Tristram Coffin settled at Nantucket in 1662. - with his family, the posterity as it was in 1719 is as follows - viz.
